To Organize Here The County Council Of Taxpayers' Ass'n

James Bush of Shelburne, president of the County Council of the Massachusetts Taxpayers' Association has opened an office for the council in the Burnham building at Greenfield and are at present considering the applications of several persons for its secretary.

Organizers are in the field and will soon visit Northfield to secure a number of members here. The official drive will be held the latter part of January.

The President's Ball; No Plans Made Here

Plans are being made again by the national committee for the celebration of the President's birthday, Keith Morgan, chairman, to hold birthday balls throughout the country, to aid in the establishment of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Proceeds this year will be on a basis of 50 per cent to the Foundation and 50 per cent to a local county council, which councils will be formed throughout the country, after the holding of the next affair.

Members of the previous committee which held and sponsored the balls in town hall in Northfield have again been urged to conduct another, but no meeting has been held and no decision made. For the past two years the county ball in the Greenfield armory has been supported.

There is at present in the hands of the committee the sum of about $45 to be used in any case of infantile paralysis arising here, and is at the disposal of the Selectmen for this purpose.

From personal expressions of the local committee, it is doubtful if a local ball will be held, but rather that co-operation will again be offered to a county affair in Greenfield.

A Preaching Mission Is Scheduled Here By Local Church

Definite plans are shaping up for the conduct of a Preaching and Teaching Mission to be held the last of January and the first of February at the Trinitarian Congregational church. As yet no details have been arranged nor any definite announcement of dates but we are assured that the preacher will be Dr. Harry A. Ironsides, minister of the famous D. L. Moody Memorial church in Chicago. An invitation has been extended to him to conduct the Mission and he will probably be assisted by a qualified leader of singing, an augmented church choir and the organist.

Arthur P. Pitt will be chairman of the local committee in charge and will also handle the publicity, much of which the "Press" hopes to announce to its readers. It is expected that further details will be available within a week or two, but meanwhile our church folks will do well to keep the matter in mind and lend their co-operation to the services.

Buy New Ambulance For Service Here

George N. Kidder, our undertaker of Parker street, has purchased a brand new ambulance, fully equipped for service of any kind. It has provisions for a cot, with patient, a nurse and a doctor, or can be used to carry two patients. It has all modern and up-to-date furnishings and equipment and is similar to one now being used in Greenfield.

It is a specially built body of the LaSalle type of automobile and has an 8-cylinder motor, capable of varying speeds and has a rating of 125-horsepower, equal to any emergency.

While Mr. Kidder retains his old ambulance, already the demands exceeds for the use of the new one. Those who have seen the new car, describe it as a fine job. The ambulance is convertible and can be used for other purposes.

PUBLIC FORUM

To the Editor,

I noticed your item about our having passed the winter solstice and the days now getting longer.

When I was in college (Dublin University) one of the favorite problems in Astronomy was to prove by mathematical calculations, being given the actual positions in the heavens of the sun, moon and earth, that as a matter of fact the mornings do not become lighter until Jan. 8.

I wonder if our present-day astronomers and mathematicians have changed that conclusion? We can all test the truth of it ourselves day by day.

A. P. Pitt

Editor of the Press,

I wish to correct a statement in your paper a few weeks ago in regard to the amount of money spent on tree and stump removal, and the number of trees and stumps removed. The amount spent by the state was $28,700 and the total number of stumps removed was 404. The price paid included the filling of holes and grass seeding.

Will Seek $50,000 For Advertising Western Counties

A campaign to raise between $30,000 and $50,000 with which to tell the world of the attractions of this section of Massachusetts, will be launched by the Western Visitors Association, of which A. Gordon Moody of the Northfield hotel is president.

The campaign will cover the three counties of Franklin, Hampshire and Hampden, and the funds acquired will be used to attract visitors throughout the four seasons of the year to the hills and valleys of this picturesque and historic area.

Hon. John W. Haigis of Greenfield will head up the campaign for funds and immediately begin a committee organization for the various counties.

An extensive program of publicity in newspapers, magazines, and through direct mail will be inaugurated as soon after the funds have been raised as is practical.

The Western Massachusetts Visitors' Association was organized about a year ago, and the determination to proceed at once with the advertising fund-raising campaign was reached about a month ago at the time of the annual dinner, held in Northampton. From that point onward, progress has been rapid, and it is planned to complete the financing phase of the publicity program prior to Feb. 1.

Latchis Mid-Nite Show

The outstanding musical treat of the movie season is booked for the gala mid-nite show at the Latchis Memorial theatre, Brattleboro, where it will continue thru Wednesday of next week, with the fifth co-starring appearance of Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in "Sweethearts" filmization of the noted Victor Herbert operetta and marking the first appearance of the popular singing team in a technicolor production.

"Sweethearts" boasts a supporting cast of such distinguished stage and screen headliners as Frank Morgan, Ray Bolger, Florence Rice, Mischa Auer, Herman Bing, Reginald Gardiner, Fay Holden, Berton Churchill and Allyn Joslyn.

Town Meeting Soon; Caucus In January; Warrant Preparing

The town will hold its annual town meeting on Monday, Feb. 6, when again a long list of articles will probably be incorporated in the warrant for the consideration of the taxpayers.

However, before that time the caucus must be held for the nomination of officials for the various offices. Little has been heard on the streets regarding prospective candidates but there is an evident intention voiced that the expenditures must be kept within reasonable bounds.

From present indications, it would seem that the school problem, especially that of the high school, will be thoroughly discussed but some definite action must be taken to alleviate the present situation there.

Well, anyway, Feb. 6 is a fixture and the town hall will witness a capacity audience.

Schools Bequeathed $15,000 By Friend

By the will of the late Miss Annie Miller of New York City, the Northfield Schools will receive the sum of $15,000 to be known as the "Alexander Miller Scholarship" to provide funds for deserving students of Mount Hermon school. The estate has just been appraised at $384,710 gross value. Miss Miller died Jan. 3, 1938 at her home, 1 West 72nd St. She was the daughter of the late Alexander and Ann Miller of that city. She disposed of $215,000 to nine charities.

Northfield Breeder Officer In Association

The Hampshire-Franklin-Holstein Friesian Breeders' Association held its annual meeting in Greenfield at the Mansion House Thursday of this week and Fred B. Dole of Shelburne was chosen as its president. Horace Bolton of the Ferndale Farm in West Northfield was elected as vice-president.

There were about thirty members present who enjoyed a fine dinner and afterward heard addresses by Prof. F. H. Branch of the State college, J. G. Watson of Springfield, editor of the New England Homestead.

Information Please On Winter Sports

A very informative booklet has just been issued on the winter sports facilities in Massachusetts by the State Development and Industrial commission and has largely to do with the publicity of the ski trails throughout the state. There is included a map on which East Northfield is noted and a paragraph on page 18 of the booklet lists our skiing advantages, in four approved trails. Skiing enthusiasts will find the brochure of much interest and its distribution will probably bring more skiing enthusiasts to our community and to the hotel.

May Get Full Time

The radio broadcasting station WHAL of Greenfield which operates on a limited time basis now, has been approved for a full-time basis, it is reported from Washington. This will be good news to those who listen in on Greenfield and of advantage to the broadcasting station.

Gave Fine Concert

The choir of the Congregational church gave a Christmas concert last Sunday evening which consisted largely of hymns, carols of the Christmas time. A large audience was present. Prof. I. J. Lawrence was the director. A cheery program was distributed which also served as the calendar of the church. Herbert L. Ripley assisted in the program with a trumpet solo.

Distribute Almanac

There is being sent to all subscribers of the telephone service, a copy of the Telephone almanac for 1939 with the compliments of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., of which the New England Co. is a constituent member. The almanac contains many important facts relative to the history of the telephone, also statements concerning historical matters. It is an almanac worth having and keeping about the house for ready reference.

Miss Barbara Mankowsky of the Mercy hospital, Springfield, spent Sunday and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mankowsky on Northfield Mountain road.

The Youth Hostel Marks Its Birthday By Invading Host

Clad in gay and colorful costumes, hostellers are gathering at the local hostel to make merry during the holiday season, with winter sports in the open and entertainment in the evenings.

The gathering marks the fourth anniversary of the Youth Hostel movement, begun by Monroe and Isabel Smith in the Chateau on the Northfield hotel grounds.

About one hundred young people are here in festive mood and the big celebration will be New Year's eve and night. Julius Wahl and his wife, the house parents of the local hostel, will be kept very busy but will do everything possible to see that the event is remembered.

The only note of regret is that the founders could not be present, owing to the fact that Mrs. Smith is just recovering from her recent automobile accident.

The hostel movement has been making a rapid growth and development in these past four years and chains of hostels are to be found in many sections of the country.

With its headquarters here the movement constantly brings to Northfield the largest groups of young people each year.

Well Attended Dance Held By Girl Scouts

The dance held in the town hall Tuesday evening by the local Girl Scout Council was well attended and the venture brought about $50 profit for the projected visit to New York by the senior scouts. Andy Canedy's orchestra provided the music and those present enjoyed an evening of much pleasure. The hall was finely decorated by the members of the Girl Scout troop.

In Telephone Work

Miss Grace Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Johnson of Parker street, has accepted a position in the local exchange of the New England Telephone Co. Miss Johnson will prove an efficient employee and her voice will soon be familiar to all, as she responds "number please" to our ring.

THE KICKER

I hate to be a kicker, I always long for peace,
But the wheel that does the squeaking is the one that gets the grease.
It's nice to be a peaceful soul, and not too hard to please,
But the dog that's always scratching is the one that has the fleas.

"I hate to be a kicker" means nothing in a show,
For the kickers in the chorus are the ones that get the dough.
The art of soft soap spreading is a thing that palls and stales,
But the guy who wields the hammer is the guy who drives the nails.

Let us not put any notions that are harmful in your head,
But the baby that keeps yelling is the baby that gets fed.

PRAY WITHOUT CEASING

Pray when the dawn is breaking
Upon the eastern hills
Pray for love, patience, courage—
And for the Nation's ills.

Pray when the noontime cometh
For those on foreign field;
Pray that their lives may shine forth
In abundant harvest yield.

Pray again—when the shadows deepen
Thanking Him for His tender care;
For the Christ who died to save you
And for home awaiting there.

Pray in the evening hour, when all is still
Pray for the boys and girls of our land
That Satan may not get a hold of them
For his unholy debauched band.

Pray always without ceasing
There is always an open ear—
For prayers of Saints who love Him;
He has promised their prayers to hear.
—Bertha S. Lazelle

A goodly number of our citizens enjoyed their Christmas dinner at the Northfield hotel.

According to a warrant posted, the annual meeting of the Northfield Farms library will be held Saturday, Jan. 7 at eight o'clock.

Northfield Press TESTED RECIPES

By Frances Lee Barlow

THE reputation for having the biggest shade trees, and the most hospitable mother will bring your children's little playmates rocking into your backyard to play with a well filled cookie tin and a glass jar of quick chocolate syrup in the ice box your role as hostess will be an easy one to sustain—and it won't be burdensome. Here's the recipe for

Chocolate Syrup
(Base for chocolate drinks)
5 squares unsweetened chocolate; 1 cup sugar; ½ cup hot water; 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten.
Melt chocolate over hot water; cool to lukewarm. Add sugar to water, stirring until sugar is dissolved; cool to lukewarm. Add syrup to egg yolks, about one-fourth at a time, beating well after each addition; add chocolate in the same way. Then continue beating mixture 1 minute, or until slightly thickened. Turn into jar, cover tightly, and place in refrigerator. Syrup can be kept for several days. Use 2 tablespoons chocolate syrup for 1 cup milk. Makes 2 cups syrup.

And here are two summertime "refreshers" you can make with it:
Frosted Chocolate
1 cup chilled milk, 2 tablespoons Chocolate Syrup; Chocolate Ice Cream.
Add milk slowly to syrup, stirring constantly. Add ice cream, and beat or shake until ice cream and chocolate mixture are blended. Pour into tall glass and serve at once. Serves 1.

Chocolate Soda
5 tablespoons Chocolate Syrup; ½ cup carbonated water; 1 tablespoon whipped cream.
Combine syrup and carbonated water. Shake well with cracked ice. Pour into glass and top with whipped cream. Serves 1.

HOUSEWIVES who are expert budget balancers know full well that fish is a great aid in that department of home management. But many families are blessed with members who, at the sight of fish, dig in their heels and stage a rebellion. Nine times out of ten it isn't fish they dislike, but the way it's served. I think I can safely say that unless you adorn the faces of the anti-fish members of the family when they taste the savory goodness of this baked fish. But be careful what you serve with it—don't serve the stronger flavored vegetables.

Baked Fish
2 egg yolks; 3 cups milk; 4 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca; 2 teaspoons salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; 2 cups flaked cooked fish; ½ cup finely cut celery; 1 tablespoon chopped parsley; 1 teaspoon scraped onion; 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten; ½ cup bread crumbs, buttered.

Mix egg yolks with small amount of milk in top of double boiler. Add remaining milk, tapioca, salt, pepper, fish, celery, parsley, and onion. Place over rapidly boiling water and heat until scalded (allow 5 to 7 minutes after water resumes boiling); then cook 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold shape. Fold small amount tapioca mixture into egg whites; add to remaining tapioca. Turn into greased baking dish and cover with crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes, or until brown. Serve hot. Serves 6.

WHEN the gold of peaches and the rich purple and red of grapes fill the market with color then we know that fall is here—and the last call for jam and jelly making. Even if you've made jam and jelly all through the summer, not missing a single fruit or berry, don't miss making grape jelly. For the delightful tartness of grape jelly will add the final touch of flavor contrast to so many winter meals. Grape jelly with cold meat, as a filling for a cake, beaten into pudding sauce—while grape jelly will lift the homely, every day rice or milk pudding to quite dizzy heights! Make grape jelly the easy modern way by the short boil method and bottled fruit pectin.

Grape Jelly
4 cups (2 lbs.) juice, 7½ cups (3½ lbs.) sugar; ¼ bottle fruit pectin.
To prepare juice, stem about 3 pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add ¼ cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (Concord grapes give best color and flavor. If Malaga or other tight-skinned grapes are used, use 3½ cups grape juice, and add strained juice of 2 medium lemons.)

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Pour hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 glasses (8 fluid ounces each).

By FISHER BROWN and NAT FALK

1. The French anthropologist who invented the system of identification of criminals by measurements and characteristics such as color of eyes, the thumb lines, finger prints, deformities and the like. This system, sometimes called Bertillonage, has been invaluable in helping to track down our so-called Public Enemies.
2. No. It is a popular belief, among certain laborers, that a leather strap, made from a horse harness, will strengthen muscles and ligaments when worn around the wrist. It is also supposed to cure sprains and local infections.
3. Gastric juice secreted at the time of eating, influenced in quality and quantity by the appetite and relief for the food eaten. Hence—the importance of pleasant and leisurely, as well as tasty meals, to insure good digestion.

Northfield Grange

The Grange hall was filled to capacity Thursday evening of last week when "The Comical Country Cousins" was presented by fifteen ladies of the Grange. The antics of the cousins and their old-fashioned costumes kept the audience in laughter, especially the part played by the two country cousins who wore masks which made them appear to have two faces each. These apparently identical twins proved to be Gladys and Blanche Edson.

Before the play the following program was presented: A group of European folk dances by Margaret Dean, Winifred Drake and Helen Conley of the Youth Hostel staff accompanied by Julius Wahl playing on his zither; a piano duet by Esther and Florence Hale, two whistling solos by Mrs. Jennie Warnock, accompanied by Mrs. Florence Tenney on the piano; song and dance by Fay Warnock; vibraphone solo by Mrs. Bessie Dunklee of South Vernon; and accordion solos by William Urdielcicz, Lewis Shine and Ernest Durant operated a pop corn machine and sold corn, while Mrs. Shine and Mrs. Durant had charge of the candy table. The entertainment netted the Grange nearly $35. The director, Mrs. Ruth Holton deserves much credit for her production.

A Christmas program was given at the regular meeting on Tuesday evening. There were several readings and also Christmas carols and other songs on Raymond Miller's electrical phonograph and amplifier. The Lecturer, Mrs. Gertrude Gibson gave a report of her trip to the Mass. State Grange session and Lecturer's conference at Boston. The Lecturer and the lady assistant steward, Mrs. Ruth Holton, served refreshments.

Overheard in a Welch hostelry: Does Tam Ttab on this mat mean welcome? Clerk: No, that's the bath mat upside down.

WHY NOT SEND YOUR NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS THIS YEAR BY LONG DISTANCE?

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH CO.

The best proof that people still like to join in entertainment and be part of the show is evidenced by the amazing popularity of the audience participation programs. These are the shows that have proven conclusively that the studio audience and the pro and con values of such, are no longer open for discussion. Without the studio audience, there would be no "participation" show. If requests for tickets to these broadcasts are any criterion, then the Kay Kyser College of Musical Knowledge program over WHN and WEAF every Wednesday is by far the most popular of the "quiz" shows on the air.

At one time, if a program had to keep 5,000 people waiting for tickets, loud were the hurrahs and great was the elation over this indication of the show's popularity. But as soon as the audience was able to join in the fun, more people wanted to be part of the program.

The Kay Kyser broadcast, according to the agency for the sponsor, reports that they are currently 90,000 ticket requests behind, although the Times Square studio whence this program emanates accommodates 800 people. No one in radio circles mentions these figures in anything but hushed tones of amazement.

CHATTER. The sponsor who recently switched to the Orson Welles show may return to Hollywood Hotel... Sam Shayon's Twenty Years Ago and Today broadcast brings to light some amazing similarities... WHN is now on the air with dance music until 4 a. m. with a Night Owl Patrol for a fur sponsor... Ray Saunders handles... top song still remains Larry Clinton's rewrite of the DeBussey melody into "My Reverie"... that Cab Calloway dictionary is now in the Public Library... a cigarette sponsor has entered the New York baseball picture with a bid for the Yankee games... there's talk of the Bob Benchley show (WHN-WABC) moving to 9 p. m.

Saturday... Benchley has cut out previews on his show but Cantor still continues the idea... we like: Milt Herth mornings on WJZ... Walter Winchell has been renewed. Phil Baker's new air show will debut over WABC January 14... latest fan letter addressed to Enchanted Light said "Enuff Light" which reminds that ork leader Les Brown who plays in the Edison's Green Room sometimes gets mail addressed to Les Green in the Brown Room... add swell voices: Joey Nash and Pat Rossi... two boys who are tops among male singers... Maurice Dreicer who has the Forum on the ten-dial Tuesdays, conducts 15 programs a week... amazing amount for one man... Harry Glick's exercises are just the thing for lazy mornings... two soothing broadcasts: Milton Kaye's nightly Music to Read By and George Shackley's Moonbeams.

STORY OF THE WEEK. Suave and glib, though they may be quick-witted, Arlene Francis and her partner, Budd Hulick, who conduct the "What's My Name?" programs over WOR, sometimes meet up with equally snappy contestants who set them back on their heels.

The participants, drawn at random from the studio audience try to guess the names of famous persons after Arlene and Budd have tossed them various biographical hints. Some of the contenders couldn't even tell George Washington if he came up and slapped them on the back. But others, brighties, name the character right after the first slim hint. A gentleman the other night put pretty Arlene right back on her high heels by guessing a particularly obscure personage instantly. A little dazed, she gave him his ten dollar prize and a carton of the sponsor's cigarettes.

"Thanks," he said, "but where are the matches?"

SEASON'S GREETINGS. To everybody.

EDITORIAL

New suggestions are being made throughout the country to make town reports more educational and interesting to the voters, the folks who have to pay the bills. And there is an ever-increasing demand to understand by the people who are becoming tax-conscious. Dr. C. J. Rohr and Dr. P. L. Gamble of the State college, economists, are studying the plan of using descriptive charts and to apply the principle of dynamic reporting. Instead of the usual lengthy reports of officials which are seldom taken seriously, the chart for that particular department or work, would show at a glance the money spent and work accomplished. Some towns and cities in New England are already using the new idea. It may be worth considering for our town.

At the annual town meeting last February, a committee of five was authorized to canvass the situation relative to Alexander hall. It was expected that the "will" would be studied, a determination made of the creation and use of the hall under its provisions, and a solving of the problem made if any such exists. The voters will look forward to this report when presented, and they are entitled to know about the matter.

The inequalities of opportunity in business life has never come to the fore as much as recently, when "the children of the White House," one by one have come into coveted positions. Influences seemingly capitalized has brought some criticism but at the same time, the young people of any executive should not be condemned for the taking of any advantage, so long as all is fair, just and honorable. It is human in all of us to capitalize upon our ability. The only possible thought that comes to most of us, is that the White House should not be commercialized and that the activities of those who have the advantage of its connections, should be, even as Caesar's wife, above suspicion.

The Back Yard Gardener

It's a funny old world, if you know what I mean
When at each Christmas time, our faces all beam.
Our hearts, they do sing,
As the carols bells ring
And the sunbeams dance over the snow.
It's a funny old world, if you know what I mean
We bowl right along with plenty of steam.
We buy presents for dad, for Dolly and Jack
Though our banker tells us that money we lack
And we haven't paid last month's rent.
It's a funny old world that every Christmas we greet
We send a bright card to the man down the street
Though the rest of the year he is mud on our feet.
To relatives funny we send cookies and honey
And give donations so poor folks can eat.
Yes, it's a funny old world if you know what I mean
'Cause the rest of the year we never use cream
We snicker and titter and tell crazy yarns
That do nobody good but plenty of harm
And the rest of the world can go hang.
It's a funny old world, yes, and it's funnier still
To hear a guy like me talk of joy and good-will
When Mary needs shoes and the doc sends his bill.
It's a funny old world, but it's not as bad as it seems
If you would raise flowers and even some beans.
Your faces would smile, your hearts they would sing,
It would be Christmas summer, winter, or spring.
You could give tomatoes, though money you lack;
In fact, you might even get some of them back.
Some pansies and violets and gardenias too
Would give plenty of cheer to them and to you.
I'm sure it would make you forget '38

Save The Tree After The Christmas Season

Don't dump your Christmas trees in the ash barrel when the holidays are over. Save it and put it to work on the home grounds, advises Arnold M. Davis, horticulturist at Mass. State college.

Fir trees make excellent feeding stations for birds and offer them cozy shelters on frosty winter nights. The tree can be fastened upright in the lee of a building, and suet tied to the branches. If the tree is in sight of the house, the young children will delight in watching the birds as they pull at the suet.

The Christmas tree can also be used as a decoration at the front entrance of the house and will lend a note of dignity through the winter months. When the snow is piled high, the tree will look as though it were growing by the doorway, and it may give you ideas for landscaping next spring.

The tree can be placed so as to protect a climbing rose, or its branches can be ripped off and laid as a mulch over low-growing plants or bulbs. Gardeners in need of additional mulch may be able to buy left-over trees from dealers at very low prices.

Bee-keepers, too, will find the Christmas tree handy. Place on the windward side of the hives, it keeps the bees warmer and adds to the appearance of the apiary.

Minister's Son: Father, my teacher says that "collect" and "congregate" mean the same thing. Do they?

Minister: Perhaps, my son; perhaps they do. But there is a vast difference between a "congregation" and a "collection."
